Rödl & Partner and E-nform support enterprises in implementing revolutionary changes for whistleblowers

The 2nd edition of the WHISTLEBLOWING SUMMIT will take place on 7 October 2021. The free on-line conference will take 8 hours and will offer a wealth of knowledge on comprehensive whistleblower protection. The event will feature renowned experts with rich experience in their fields of practice who will help enterprises get ready for the upcoming changes.

All EU Member States are required to implement the requirements of the EU directive of October 2019 on the protection of whistleblowers by 17 December 2021. The directive sets out a range of obligations to meet by both public and private organisations; failure to meet such requirements will be sanctioned. This is a huge revolution for Polish enterprises.

The Whistleblowing Summit is a free on-line conference for anyone looking to gain practical knowledge on how to effectively implement and maintain a whistleblowing system. This event is of particular relevance for enterprises that are in the process of reviewing or extending their existing corporate policies and procedures. The conference will help strengthen employees' legal and ethical awareness and will provide guidance as to the application of appropriate tools and solutions.

While knowledge on whistleblower protection is still scarce, it is a very important topic for all legal entities as well as public and private organisations. We want to educate and raise awareness. We want to help companies get ready for the upcoming changes – this is the core idea behind the Whistleblowing Summit – says Jarosław Kamiński (Attorney at Law (PL), Associate Partner at Rödl & Partner) and Rafał Hryniewicz (CEO at E-nform Sp. z o.o.) – the event organisers.
